

5 Amazing Facts About Alexander Graham Bell

1. He was born on March 3, 1847 in Edinburgh, Scotland.
2. He created his first invention when he was 12.
3. He was a teacher of deaf students, including Helen Keller.
4. He wanted to communicate speech over a wire.
5. His invention made sounds into signals, and then signals into sounds.
6. It is believed that he was the first to create a device that could send and receive speech clearly.
7. In 1877, he created the phonograph, which could play and record sound.
8. He invented a metal detector, and helped design airplanes with other scientists.
9. He helped design a hydrofoil boat, which glides across water.